1. The Big Picture

1. The Big Picture

Average student academic achievement in OECD countries by socioeconomic (SES) quartile since 2000

1. The Big Picture

"260 million children, adolescents and youth are not at school and only three quarters of 15-year-olds in middle income countries attend school, and just half of them achieve the basic level of proficiency required." – Global Education Monitoring Report 2020

"The performance differences across the OECD countries between the most socio-economically advantaged and disadvantaged students is equivalent to over 3 years of schooling." –PISA 2018

"There is a global learning crisis that amplifies educational inequalities that severely hobbles the disadvantaged youth who most need the boost that a good education can offer."

– World Bank Human Development Report 2018

2. The next education paradigm

2. The next education paradigm

People understanding their own contexts and that they are part of a larger system in improving the system as a whole.

People need a sense of purpose, belonging, and well-being in society combined with meaningful learning.

Investing in equity to narrow the achievement and wellbeing gaps among social groups.

Peoples' capacities and skills to use technology for the benefit of humankind and the universe.

3. Coda

Quality and equity of education have been in decline since 2000.

Education for a New World

Old models of schooling exaggerate 'the global learning crisis'.

Fewer and fewer students are benefitting from school education.
